Township Property Taxes

If this is a Township Subdivision budget form, the amount of property taxes shown above and on the front cover may not represent the amount the Township will receive. Statute 39-1522 outlines that one-half of all money collected from the township levy on property within the corporate limits of a city or village shall be paid to the treasurer of the city or village to be used for the maintenance and repairs of the streets.

Township should take this into consideration when determining property tax amount to be budgeted.

Township Total Valuation	147,492,036
City/Village Valuation included in Township Valuation
General Fund Tax Rate	0.033378
Township Taxes within City/Village	-
50% of Township Taxes within City/Village	-
Projected Township Taxes to be collected	49,229.89

Note: Township would need to verify with County Assessor the amount of City / Village valuation included within the Township Total Valuation. This calculation is only shown here as information for the Township to help determine the amount of property taxes needed to operate. IT SHOULD NOT BE USED BY THE COUNTY FOR LEVY SETTING PURPOSES.

Cash Reserve Fund

Statute 13-503 says cash reserve means funds required for the period before revenue would become available for expenditure but shall not include funds held in any special reserve fund. If the cash reserve on Page 2 exceeds 50%, you can list below amounts being held in a special reserve fund.

Special Reserve Fund Name	Amount
Total Special Reserve Funds	-

Total Cash Reserve	$	11,130.21
Remaining Cash Reserve	$	11,130.21
Remaining Cash Reserve %		12%

To the Governing Board
Logan Township
Beatrice, Nebraska

The governing board is responsible for the accompanying budget form for the Logan Township, which comprises the historical information – cash basis for the years ended June 30, 2024 and 2025 and the budgeted information – cash basis for the year ending June 30, 2026 included in the accompanying prescribed form. We have performed a compilation engagement in accordance with Statements on Standards for Accounting and Review Services promulgated by the Accounting and Review Services Committee of the AICPA. We did not audit or review the accompanying prescribed form, nor were we required to perform any procedures to verify the accuracy or completeness of the information provided by the governing board. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion, a conclusion, nor provide any form of assurance on the accompanying prescribed form.

A compilation of forecasted budget information is limited to presenting in the form prescribed by the Nebraska Auditor of Public Accounts information that is the representation of the governing board and does not include evaluation of the support for the assumptions underlying the forecast. We have not examined the forecast and the accompanying information referred to above and, accordingly, do not express an opinion or any other form of assurance on the accompanying forecasted information or underlying assumptions. Furthermore, there will usually be differences between the forecasted and actual results because events and circumstances frequently do not occur as expected and those differences may be material. We have no responsibility to update this report for events and circumstances occurring after the date of this report.

The governing board has elected, in accordance with the policies established by the Nebraska Auditor of Public Accounts, to omit the summary of significant accounting policies required by the guidelines for presentation of a forecast established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. If the omitted disclosures were included in the forecast, they might influence the user's conclusions about Logan Township's budgeted information for the forecasted year ending June 30, 2026. Accordingly, this forecast is not designed for those who are not informed about such matters.

The information included in the accompanying budget form is presented in accordance with the requirements of the Nebraska Auditor of Public Accounts and is not intended to be a complete presentation of Logan Township's assets and liabilities.

NWS hopefuls asked to show Trump alignment

TAMMY WEBBER AND ALEXA ST. JOHN Associated Press

As the National Weather Service scrambles to hire up to 450 people to restore deep cuts by the Department of Government Efficiency, potential applicants are asked to explain how they would advance President Donald Trump's agenda if hired.

A posting from the weather service's parent agency seeking meteorologists asks applicants to identify one or two of Trump's executive orders "that are significant to you, and explain how you would help implement them if hired."

It's among screening questions added to government job applications as part of a "merit hiring plan" that Trump announced at the outset of his second term, and it's not unique to the weather service positions.

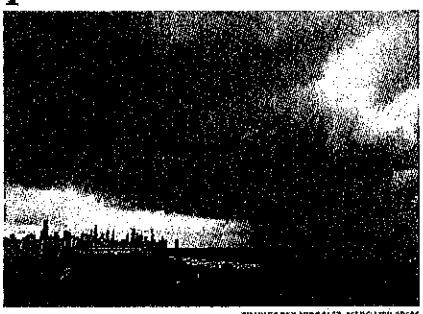

Some experts said they are alarmed at the prospect that a candidate's ideology could matter for jobs in science.

"The fundamental question is, will this make forecasts any better? That's the job of the weather service," said Rick Spinrad, who led the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration, which includes the weather service, under Democratic former President Joe Biden.

"These people should be hired for their knowledge in meteorology or hydrology or information technology or physics — not civics. ... Bottom line, I'd rather have a great forecaster who's never read an EO than a policy maven who's taken one meteorology class," he said, referring to executive orders.

Spokespeople for NOAA didn't respond to emails seeking comment.

Before Elon Musk left DOGE, it cut hundreds of NOAA forecasters and other employees soon after Trump took office. Experts warned that the vacancies could hurt forecasts and dangerous consequences for people if extreme weather warnings were slowed.

Storm clouds pass over downtown Chicago and the Bronzeville neighborhood of the city heading east out over Lake Michigan on July 12, 2023, when the National Weather Service issued tornado warnings in the greater metropolitan area.

NOAA confirmed in early August that it received approval to hire as many as 450 people for critical positions within the weather service after this spring's deep cuts.

Trump issued numerous executive orders, and applicants could presumably choose any to endorse — or none at all, since the application says responses aren't required, only encouraged.

The Republican president consistently attacked clean energy and climate science while promoting fossil fuels such as oil, natural gas and coal, which emit planet-warming gases.

One of his first executive orders, which he dubbed "unleashing American energy" directed agencies to sweep away any "undue burden" to fossil fuel development. That order also canceled orders from Biden that addressed climate change.

Under Trump, NOAA stopped tracking the cost of weather disasters worsened by climate change. His administration also moved to shut down two NASA missions that monitor a potent greenhouse gas and plant health — data seen as helpful for measuring the impacts of climate change.

Trump's second term is marked by accusations that he politicized science, most recently with the ouster of the head of the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention for not being "aligned" with the president's agenda.

Separately, employees of the Environmental Protection Agency, National Institutes of Health and Federal Emergency Management Agency issued declarations of dissent with agency actions. Some EPA and FEMA employees who signed those letters were put on leave.

Another screening question asks applicants how their "commitment to the Constitution and the founding principles of the United States" inspired them to seek the job. A third asks how they would use their skills to improve government efficiency and effectiveness.

Craig McLean, a former NOAA acting chief scientist under Biden and during Trump's first term, said none of the questions is relevant to weather service positions. NOAA and the NWS are responsible for daily weather forecasts, severe storm warnings and climate monitoring, among other tasks.
